MANAGERS REST IN SULZER CASE

Defense Has Some Preliminary Motions to Make.

SARECKY IS FIRST WITNESS

Governor's Campaign Secretary Will Testify Regarding Certain Checks. Impeached Executive and Mrs. Sulzer Are Expected to Take the Stand Before the Defense Closes.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The assembly board of managers rested its case in the trial in the impeachment of Governor William Sulzer. The high court then adjourned. Counsel for the governor will submit several preliminary motions for the court to decide before opening the case for the defense.

These disposed of, counsel probably will ask permission to take another adjournment before calling their first witness, who, it is said, will be Louis A. Sarecky, the governor's campaign secretary. Sarecky endorsed many of the checks given to Sulzer during his campaign which were not reported in his sworn statement of campaign contributions.

Both the governor and Mrs. Sulzer are expected to take the stand before the defense closes.

Mrs. Sulzer, it is said, will defend his alleged speculative transactions with testimony to show that they were conducted for her account. She is expected to tell the story of the loan she is said to have contracted with the Carnegie Trust company and seek to prove that for the sole purpose of paying the loan the governor borrowed money from the stock exchange firm of Harris & Fuller on securities owned by her and did not speculate with the firm.

Attorney Harvey D. Hinman will make the address opening the governor's case. It was chiefly because Mr. Hinman, who has conducted most of the cross-examination, had become exhausted that Judge D. Cady Herick, chief counsel for the defense, asked that adjournment be taken till Monday. This request was denied by the court during an executive session.

STANDARDIZING PARCEL POST

Department Experimenting in Three Cities.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Standardization of methods of handling of parcel post matter is being worked out by Postmaster General Burleson. To this end postoffices at Baltimore, Boston and Richmond, Va., will be used as experimental offices. Once a standard is attained in them every postmaster in the country will become familiar with the methods adopted, so that when the holiday season arrives the enormous amount of parcel post matter may be handled properly.

Mr. Burleson has determined that safety to the merchandise transported shall be the principal feature of the parcel post.

MINNESOTA MAN CANDIDATE

Frank A. Day After Porto Rico Governorship.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Frank A. Day, of Minnesota is a candidate for governor of Porto Rico, it was learned, following a conference between the president and Secretary of War Garrison relating to this appointment and that of Philippine commissioner. The secretary said no conclusions had been reached. Arthur Yager of Georgetown, Ky., former president of the college there, is a candidate for the Porto Rico position. He was a classmate of President Wilson at Princeton. Senator James is strongly urging his appointment. Another candidate is Congressman Foster of Illinois.

MAJOR RANDALL STRICKEN

Well Known Minnesota Pioneer and State Minister Dies.

Winona, Minn., Oct. 2.—Major B. H. Randall, one of the pioneer residents of Minnesota and for many years president of the Old Settlers' association, died in a hospital here after a long illness. He was ninety years old.

His son, Frank L. Randall, formerly superintendent of the St. Cloud reformatory and now chairman of the Massachusetts prison commission, was among those at his bedside.

Major Randall was born on a farm at Greensboro, Vt. He came to Minnesota in 1849 when Fort Snelling was the principal point of settlement in the territory.

SENATORS HOLD TARIFF CAUCUS

Democrats Approve Conference Report on Bill.

ONLY SIX NEGATIVE VOTES

Meeting Agrees to Abandon Its Position on the Clause in the Measure Relating to Taxing Dealings in Cotton Futures and Leave the Entire Subject for Later Legislative Action.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Disaffection among Democratic senators which prevented final action on the tariff bill was dissipated under the influence of a heated caucus discussion and the caucus approved the bill as reported by the conference committee of the house and senate. But six Democrats voted against approving the report.

The caucus decided to abandon its position on the proposition in the bill to tax dealings in cotton futures and to leave the entire subject open for later legislative action. Both the amendments of Senator Clarke of Arkansas, written into the bill in the senate, and the less drastic administration substitute presented by House Leader Underwood and adopted by the house, will be thrown out by the senate Democrats.

After the caucus Senator Simmons said he was confident that the senate would complete its consideration of the tariff bill today. He said a motion would be made first to agree to the conference report and that then he would move to disagree to the Underwood cotton tax amendment and also to recede from the senate amendment.

House May Drop Cotton Plan.

With the bill thus disposed of by the senate, the house probably would agree to drop the cotton future tax provision for the present and send the tariff bill to the president.

Senator Simmons expressed confidence that there would be no desertions from the Democrats who voted for the bill on its original passage in the senate.

While Senator Simmons expects to finish the bill today, the desire of Republican and Democratic senators to discuss the provisions of the conference report may delay final action.

The caucus battled loud and long over various provisions in the bill arranged by the conference committee. Chief among these were the elimination of the tax of $1.10 a gallon on grape brandy used to fortify sweet wines, against which Senator Pomeroy of Ohio voiced strenuous protests; the differential between wire rope and wire in completed cables, which, as fixed by the conference, aroused the opposition of Senators Reed of Missouri and Hughes of New Jersey, and the arrangement of the paragraph including cast iron pipe.

MINER TALKS WITH WIFE

First Word of Entombed Man Is to Ask for Children.

Centralia, Pa., Oct. 2.—Because of a severe rain which fell, causing falls of coal into the mine where Thomas Toshesky has been entombed since last Friday morning, extraordinary efforts were put forth by rescuers to liberate the imprisoned miner.

Toshesky asked to talk with his wife, who was waiting at the edge of the mine breach. Mrs. Toshesky descended to the bottom of the mine and heard the voice of her husband for the first time in nearly a week.

"How are the children, especially the baby?" was the first question Toshesky asked. He told his wife not to worry.

TWO EARTHQUAKES OCCUR IN PANAMA

Gatun Locks on Canal May Suffer Some Damage.

Colon, Oct. 2.—A severe earthquake occurred here. The disturbance was of nearly a minute's duration.

Houses were rocked and the entire population was aroused. Thousands filled the streets and remained there in fear of the collapse of their houses.

The earthquake was the heaviest within memory. A second slighter shock occurred.

"The Gatun locks" was on everybody's lips, but it was impossible to learn whether any damage had been done there.

The disturbance began with a slow oscillatory movement, which gradually became more marked.

Houses swayed, clocks stopped and articles of furniture were thrown to the floor. Many of the residents became panic stricken and women rushed from their homes with children in their arms.

WANT ROOSEVELT ON C. O. P. TICKET

He May Be Republican Candidate For President.

ONE BIG STUMBLING BLOCK.

Defiant Attitude of Progressives Makes Idea Almost Impossible, Although Such a Program Is Discussed—Roosevelt Joins Other Progressives in Support of Democratic Measures.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Although Theodore Roosevelt constantly gives encouragement to the Progressives and asserts his determination to aid them in their campaign in the congressional elections next fall, there is a lot of talk among Republicans to the effect that Roosevelt will be the Republican candidate for president in 1916.

"The Republicans want to win, and they can win with Roosevelt. They can't win if there is a Progressive candidate in the field, whether the man is Roosevelt or another man backed by Roosevelt." That is the way one of the long headed men of the party talked.

Among quite a number of Republicans, outside of those with violent prejudices against the colonel, there is considerable discussion and much approval of a plan of getting the wings of the old party together with Roosevelt as the nominee.

Looks Impossible. The idea seems impossible, if anything were impossible in politics. The greatest stumbling block is in the apparent militant attitude of the Progressives. They are defiant and show no desire to patch up differences with the Republicans. This spirit has been manifested in the house more than in any other place. The little band of Progressive members show as much fight against the Republicans as they do against the Democrats—more, in fact, for they nearly all vote for the Democratic measures. And it appears they have the support of Colonel Roosevelt.

The Old and the New Style. In the days when the old Republican machine of the house began to show signs of wear and tear the motto of the managers was, "The committee on rules must not suffer defeat." And before the committee on rules allowed a proposition to go before the house a careful canvass would be made of all members to ascertain if the votes were in sight to secure success. Before the Payne bill was passed two or three days were consumed in canvassing. Democratic votes were obtained or Democrats were induced to remain away without pairs—in fact, all kinds of trades were made to eke out a majority.

In these days the Democrats seem to have adopted a motto that a committee shall not be turned down. The committee gets its bill ready, gets the administration support and then goes into caucus and wins its fight. At present there is not enough insurgency on the Democratic side to necessitate such careful canvassing as was needed in the last days of Republican control.

Things to Drink.

Senator Pomeroy was discussing the subject of nontaxable alcohol for sweet wines, and Senator Martine remarked that an effort was being made to encourage the use of light wines in the place of stronger drink.

"It is not a very light wine that is half as strong as whiskey," said the Ohio senator.

"It would depend upon how much the whiskey was watered," replied the New Jersey senator.

"If light wines discouraged the use of strong drink why not take the tax off beer, as it contains only 4 per cent alcohol?" asked Pomeroy.

"I am not a beer expert," responded Martine, "but there are ingredients in beer which are pernicious. Besides, the wine drinker only takes a comparatively small amount, while the beer drinker is not satisfied until he has guzzled at least half a dozen beers."

Looking For Politics.

The discovery of slavery in the Philippines is said to have politics back of it. Just why a political issue should be made of any such condition is hard to see, although it is alleged that it will be used to postpone independence for the Philippines. "Malays at $2 per head," remarked Tom Reed when the McKinley administration acquired the islands. That seems to have been the first purchase under American control. The United States paid Spain $20,000,000 for the islands, and it was estimated that there were 10,000,000 people there; hence the Reed sarcasm.

What Will They Do?

On account of the large increase in the Democratic membership in the house and the further fact that the caucus by resolution made it impossible for older men to get all the best committee places or hold a good chairmanship and a good committee place many new men are members of the important legislative committees of the house. There is considerable speculation as to what they will do when they take hold of the legislation and not a little apprehension as it is known that many have their own ideas about what ought to be done.

HUSBAND KNEW OF HIS WIFE'S CRIMES

Tells Police Woman Confessed to Him Recently.

Minneapolis, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Ida Leckwold, the woman who has admitted that she murdered one of her children and is suspected by the police of having killed five others, confessed two weeks ago to her husband, Ole Leckwold, that she had killed their nine-year-old daughter, Viola, he declares.

He started to the police station to surrender his wife to the authorities, forcing her to accompany him, but her entreaties made him turn back.

His statement contained the declaration that his wife admitted also the murder of three other children in addition to Viola.

Breaking the silence that he had maintained since his wife's arrest Leckwold made the statement to the Minneapolis police and added the crime of arson to that of murder, with which he had already charged the woman. Broken in spirit, he trembled and almost wept as he detailed his struggle between love for his children's mother on one side and a regard for his duty on the other.

BRITONS FEAR WOMEN RULE

Fair Sex Largely in the Majority in United Kingdom.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Woman suffrage is doomed in England because male voters fear that enfranchised women would make Great Britain a woman's nation, completely dominated by the feminine sex. This was the opinion expressed by Lord Northcliffe, London publisher, who was the guest of the Chicago Press club at luncheon. "There are proportionately 1,700,000 more women of voting age than men in England, Scotland and Ireland," he said. "If they were given the same franchise rights as men they could dominate the empire. No self-respecting man is going to be dominated by women. The men of England will not tolerate it and both political parties will stand together in opposition to it."

Rain Paralyzes Traffic on New York City Streets.

AT LEAST TWO LIVES LOST

Storm Establishes Record Precipitation, Floods Streets, Ties Up Subway, Hampers Surface and Elevated Traffic and Causes Property Loss That Cannot at Present Be Estimated.

New York, Oct. 2.—A rain storm that almost reached cloudburst proportions descended on New York, establishing a record precipitation that flooded streets, tied up the subway, hampered surface and elevated traffic in city and suburbs for several hours and caused property loss that can scarcely be estimated.

Two persons were killed and several injured. Four men were buried in a sewer cavern, but were rescued. Lightning played above the city and struck an elevated train and several buildings, setting fires which the deluge extinguished. Incoming trains from all directions were delayed, as cuts and tunnels resembled rivers within canyons.

Within the city the traffic congestion was such that the resources of the transit companies and the ability of the police to handle the crowds were severely taxed. Brooklyn bridge saw the greatest traffic rush in its history.

There was little wind here, but along the New Jersey coast there was a gale blowing fifty miles an hour. Rain swelled the Passaic river nearly to its previous record high water mark and the streets of Newark were inundated. Low lying Jersey meadows became seemingly part of the river.

In New York, the weather bureau, established in 1871, recorded a new figure in amount of rainfall for two hours, when 3.32 inches descended. Within approximately twelve hours 4.86 inches fell.

Thomas H. Walsh, a train dispatcher, bossing a pumping gang in the subway, slipped and fell on the third rail and was killed. The other victim during the storm was Patrolman Hugh Clarke of Jersey City, electrocuted at his street call box, which had become charged after wires became crossed.

The caucus decided to abandon its position on the proposition in the bill to tax dealings in cotton futures and to leave the entire subject open for later legislative action. Both the amendments of Senator Clarke of Arkansas, written into the bill in the senate, and the less drastic administration substitute presented by House Leader Underwood and adopted by the house, will be thrown out by the senate Democrats.

After the caucus Senator Simmons said he was confident that the senate would complete its consideration of the tariff bill today. He said a motion would be made first to agree to the conference report and that then he would move to disagree to the Underwood cotton tax amendment and also to recede from the senate amendment.

House May Drop Cotton Plan.

With the bill thus disposed of by the senate, the house probably would agree to drop the cotton future tax provision for the present and send the tariff bill to the president.

Senator Simmons expressed confidence that there would be no desertions from the Democrats who voted for the bill on its original passage in the senate.

While Senator Simmons expects to finish the bill today, the desire of Republican and Democratic senators to discuss the provisions of the conference report may delay final action.

The caucus battled loud and long over various provisions in the bill arranged by the conference committee. Chief among these were the elimination of the tax of $1.10 a gallon on grape brandy used to fortify sweet wines, against which Senator Pomerene of Ohio voiced strenuous protests; the differential between wire rope and wire in completed cables, which, as fixed by the conference, aroused the opposition of Senators Reed of Missouri and Hughes of New Jersey, and the arrangement of the paragraph including cast iron pipe.

Gatun Locks on Canal May Suffer Some Damage.

Colon, Oct. 2.—A severe earthquake occurred here. The disturbance was of nearly a minute's duration.

Houses were rocked and the entire population was aroused.

Thousands filled the streets and remained there in fear of the collapse of their houses.

The earthquake was the heaviest in memory. A second slighter shock occurred.

"The Gatun locks" was on every body's lips, but it was impossible to learn whether any damage had been done there.

The disturbance began with a slow oscillatory movement, which gradually became more marked.

Houses swayed, clocks stopped and articles of furniture were thrown to the floor. Many of the residents became panic stricken and women rushed from their homes with children in their arms.

WANT ROOSEVELT ON G. O. P. TICKET

He May Be Republican Candidate For President.

ONE BIG STUMBLING BLOCK.

Defiant Attitude of Progressives Makes Idea Almost Impossible, Although Such a Program Is Discussed—Roosevelt Joins Other Progressives in Support of Democratic Measures.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—Although Theodore Roosevelt constantly gives encouragement to the Progressives and asserts his determination to aid them in their campaign in the congressional elections next fall, there is a lot of talk among Republicans to the effect that Roosevelt will be the Republican candidate for president in 1916.

"The Republicans want to win, and they can win with Roosevelt. They can't win if there is a Progressive candidate in the field, whether the man is Roosevelt or another man backed by Roosevelt." That is the way one of the long headed men of the party talked.

Among quite a number of Republicans, outside of those with violent prejudices against the colonel, there is considerable discussion and much approval of a plan of getting the wings of the old party together with Roosevelt as the nominee.

Looks Impossible.

The idea seems impossible, if anything were possible in politics. The greatest stumbling block is in the apparent militant attitude of the Progressives. They are defiant and show no desire to patch up differences with the Republicans. This spirit has been manifested in the house more than in any other place. The little band of Progressive members show as much fight against the Republicans as they do against the Democrats—more, in fact, for they nearly all vote for the Democratic measures. And it appears they have the support of Colonel Roosevelt.

The Old and the New Style.

In the days when the old Republican machine of the house began to show signs of wear and tear the motto of the managers was, "The committee on rules must not suffer defeat." And before the committee on rules allowed a proposition to go before the house a careful canvass would be made of all members to ascertain if the votes were in sight to secure success. Before the Payne bill was passed two or three days were consumed in canvassing. Democratic votes were obtained or Democrats were induced to remain away without pairs—in fact, all kinds of trades were made to eke out a majority.

In these days the Democrats seem to have adopted a motto that a committee shall not be turned down. The committee gets its bill ready, gets the administration support and then goes into caucus and wins its fight. At present there is not enough insurgency on the Democratic side to necessitate such careful canvassing as was needed in the last days of Republican control.

Things to Drink.

Senator Pomerene was discussing the subject of nontaxable alcohol for sweet wines, and Senator Martine remarked that an effort was being made to encourage the use of light wines in the place of stronger drink.

"It is not a very light wine that is half as strong as whisky," said the Ohio senator.

"It would depend upon how much the whisky was watered," replied the New Jersey senator.

"If light wines discouraged the use of strong drink why not take the tax off beer, as it contains only four per cent alcohol?" asked Pomerene.

"I am not a beer expert," responded Martine, "but there are ingredients in beer which are pernicious. Besides, the wine drinker only takes a comparatively small amount, while the beer drinker is not satisfied until he has guzzled at least half a dozen beers."

Looking For Politics.

The discovery of slavery in the Philippines is said to have politics as a motive. It just may be a political issue made of any such condition is hard to see, although it is alleged that it will be used to postpone independence for the Philippines. "Malays at $2 per head," remarked Tom Reed when the McKinley administration acquired the islands. That seems to have been the first purchase under American control. The United States paid Spain $20,000,000 for the islands, and it was estimated that there were 10,000,000 people there; hence the Reed sarcasm.

What Will They Do?

On account of the large increase in the Democratic membership in the house and the further fact that the caucus by resolution made it impossible for older men to get all the best committee places or hold a good chairmanship and a good committee place many new men are members of the important legislative committees of the house. There is considerable speculation as to what they will do when they take hold of the legislation and not a little apprehension as it is known that many have their own ideas about what ought to be done.

HUSBAND KNEW OF HIS WIFE'S CRIMES

Tells Police Woman Confessed to Him Recently.

Minneapolis, Oct. 2.—Mrs. Ida Leckwold, the woman who has admitted that she murdered one of her children and is suspected by the police of having killed five others, confessed two weeks ago to her husband, Ole Leckwold, that she had killed their nine-year-old daughter, Viola, he declares.

He started to the police station to surrender his wife to the authorities, forcing her to accompany him, but her entreaties made him turn back. His statement contained the declaration that his wife admitted also the murder of three other children in addition to Viola.

Breaking the silence that he had maintained since his wife's arrest Leckwold made this statement to the Minneapolis police and added the crime of arson to that of murder, with which he had already charged the woman. Broken in spirit, he trembled and almost wept as he detailed his struggle between love for his children's mother on one side and a regard for his duty on the other.

Fair Sex Largely in the Majority in United Kingdom.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Woman suffrage is doomed in England because male voters fear that enfranchised women would make Great Britain a woman's nation, completely dominated by the feminine sex. This was the opinion expressed by Lord Northcliffe, London publisher, who was the guest of the Chicago Press club at luncheon. "There are proportionately 1,700,000 more women of voting age than men in England, Scotland and Ireland," he said. "If they were given the same franchise rights as men they could dominate the empire. No self-respecting man is going to be dominated by women. The men of England will not tolerate it and both political parties will stand together in opposition to it."

Rain Paralyzes Traffic on New York City Streets.

AT LEAST TWO LIVES LOST

Storm Establishes Record Precipitation, Floods Streets, Ties Up Subway, Hampers Surface and Elevated Traffic and Causes Property Loss That Cannot at Present Be Estimated.

New York, Oct. 2.—A rain storm that almost reached cloudburst proportions descended on New York, establishing a record precipitation that flooded streets, tied up the subway, hampered surface and elevated traffic in city and suburbs for several hours and caused property loss that can scarcely be estimated.

Two persons were killed and several injured. Four men were buried in a sewer cavern, but were rescued. Lightning played above the city and struck an elevated train and several buildings, setting fires which the deluge extinguished. Incoming trains from all directions were delayed, as cuts and tunnels resembled rivers within canyons.

Within the city the traffic congestion was such that the resources of the transit companies and the ability of the police to handle the crowds were severely taxed. Brooklyn bridge saw the greatest traffic rush in its history.

There was little wind here, but along the New Jersey coast there was a gale blowing fifty miles an hour. Rain swelled the Passaic river nearly to its previous record high water mark and the streets of Newark were inundated. Low lying Jersey meadows became seemingly part of the river.

In New York, the weather bureau, established in 1871, recorded a new figure in amount of rainfall for two hours, when 3.32 inches descended. Within approximately twelve hours 4.86 inches fell.

Thomas H. Walsh, a train dispatcher, bossing a pumping gang in the subway, slipped and fell on the third rail and was killed. The other victim during the storm was Patrolman Hugh Clarke of Jersey City, electrocuted at his street call box, which had become charged after wires became crossed.

Another examination will be held Friday.

EFFORT.

Nothing can be accomplished in the work of this life without effort. Nothing that is of real worth can be achieved without courageous working. Man owes his growth chiefly to that active striving of the will, that encounter with difficulty, which we call effort, and it is astonishing to find how often results apparently impracticable are thus made possible.—Samuel Smiles.

THEY PUZZLE GREAT MINDS.

Simple Words Too Profound For Human Understanding.

Q.—Can there be two kinds of infinity or two infinite spaces?

A.—The writer of this question must decide. The nearest star is distant twenty-five trillion miles. Write a row of units 111111... to the star and let each unit represent one mile; then the distance represented by a line of 1's, twenty-five trillion miles long, submerges all human powers of imagination. But write a row of 222222, twenty-five trillion miles long; then the number of miles represented would be twice as great. Then write a row of 999999, equally long, and the distance expressed would be nine times as great as that represented by the 1's.

But no human can think of the distance expressed by the 1's. Let the first row of figures extend twenty-five trillion or fifty or a thousand trillion miles to the east; then a row could be extended toward the west. Many millions of years would be required to write the long rows. Suppose that you write 9's both ways during a thousand million years each. Then the distance in miles would be thinner than a spider's thread when compared to an infinite distance.

There are possibly fifty persons now living able to think one new thought. They are the mighty of the earth, and are all transcendent mathematicians. Not one of these even tries to begin to think of infinity or eternity. They all know better. Only the superficial strive to think of the two words, so my questioner must answer his own question, for I cannot even hope to secure a glimpse, lasting a thousandth part of one second, of the meaning of one of the following list of words: Mind, space, time, duration, infinity, eternity, beginning, end, space and electrons.—Edgar Lucien Larkin in New York American.

"I believe his name is Vowel," was the reply.

"Ah," said Garriok, "I wonder which of the vowels he is, for there are several. At all events it is certain that it is neither U nor I!"

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. EFFORT.

Nothing can be accomplished in the work of this life without effort.
Nothing that is of real worth can be achieved without courageous working. Man owes his growth chiefly to that active striving of the will, that encounter with difficulty, which we call effort, and it is asapparently impracticable are thus made possible.—Samuel Smiles.

BARROWS MINE SHIPS FIRST ORE

Large Crowd Witnesses First Shipment of Ore From the South Cuyuna Iron Range

12 CARS ADDED TO FREIGHT

Mining Men, Railway Officials, Fee-Holders, Mine Officials and Workers Present

Today, October 2, is a red letter day on the Cuyuna range, for it signalizes the first shipment of ore made from the South Range of the Cuyuna Iron Range, 12 cars of ore averaging 60 per cent having been shipped this morning from the Barrows mine of the Virginia Ore Mining Co., a subsidiary of the M. A. Hanna Co. This first ore from the Barrows mine at Barrows is consigned to the Northern Pacific railway docks at Superior.

In the presence of a large crowd of mining men, fee-owners of the property, mine officials and workers, railway officials, citizens of Barrows, Brainerd, Duluth, Superior, Ely, St. Paul, Two Harbors and other points, and the 50 school children from the Barrows schools with their teachers Miss Mae Staples and Miss Jessie Dewald, the way freight steamed to Barrows and the mine and then commenced switching the loaded ore cars to the main line.

As the crowd stood near the 12,000 tons stockpile, W. W. Latta, the Brainerd Dispatch staff photographer, took several pictures of the hundreds present.

The ore cars were gayly decorated with bunting and with signs on both sides showing that the ore came from the Barrows mine.

Among those at the mine were R. R. Wise, of the Brainerd Mining Co., whose property was leased to the operators; George D. LaBar, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Farrar, the Misses Small, W. A. Barrows, James M. Elder, Henry I. Cohen, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Frederick, J. Rottman, and many others from Brainerd.

From St. Paul were Division Superintendent Newman Kline, of the St. Paul division of the Northern Pacific railway and A. Tinning, assistant general freight agent.

From Duluth were John Wahl, of the Barrows townsite Co., William Nicolaysen, Theodor Dahljem.

From Superior, Walter Hard of the Superior Telegram.

From Two Harbors were County Attorney J. G. Jelle and Charles E. Anderson.

From Eveleth was John Schwab.

With the mine whistles emitting loud blasts, joined in by the toot from road engine No. 2335, the cars were attached to the way freight and amid the cheers of the assembled hundreds the train pulled out for Brainerd, from which point they will be sent out to the new ore docks of the Northern Pacific railway at Superior.

In charge of the train pulling the first ore from the South Range and the Barrows mine were Engineer James Reilly, C. Barron fireman, Ed. Hamblen conductor and Jerry Grace and Charles Romus brakemen. The way freight had 48 cars and when the 12 ore cars were added it made up a good, heavy train.

The ore cars were switched to the west end of the Brainerd yards and can be seen near the bridge. Many Brainerd people took advantage of the opportunity to see the ore from the Barrows mine.

To Supt. W. J. Nicholas belongs the credit for getting the mine in the present high state of efficiency. He took charge June 15 at a time when the Barrows mine had been flooded four months. In 15 days the mine was clear of water and he used nothing but the old equipment. Supt. Nicholas is a practical miner of great experience. For five years he was with the Pickands-Mather people and for three years he was mine inspector on the Mesaba and Vermillion ranges. He is 40 years old, but looks like 25. Of rugged health, he has taken care of himself, is never sick and is a man who is constantly on the job and knows every detail of the work entrusted to his care. He has certainly made a record in efficient management at the Barrows mine.

About him he has gathered a crew of high-class men including a force of good miners and H. Tallon, mining captain; Harry Sincor, shift boss; Charles Richards, master mechanic; H. Clark, chief clerk; F. W. McGee, assistant bookkeeper. The total working force at present is 125 men.

The shaft is down a depth of 160 feet and at this level are situated three pump stations. The pumps include several high pressure pumps of 600 gallon capacity, a 3,000 gallon triple expansion pump, a 1,000 gallon compound pump, a 3,500 gallon triple expansion pump, the latter newly installed. The flow of water now runs about 2,000 gallons a minute and the 3,500 gallon pump handles it easily. A new launder 3600 feet long is being installed and the old one along the N. P. railway right of way will be removed.

A sub-level at 120 feet has been drifted out a distance of 400 feet or more. About 150 tons are being hoisted daily. The stockpile has about 12,000 tons. From the shaft alone there can be shipped before the close of navigation about 10,000 tons. Some ore may be shipped from the stockpile.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Tomorrow night at 7:30 there will be a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. to take up the question of cross country runs as well as a walking club and to appoint committees to further each to the greatest possible extent. All interested should make it a point to be present.

From now on the mens regular gymn classes at the Y. M. C. A. will begin at 7:00 o'clock sharp, whenever there is a show at the opera house. This will enable those going to the show to do so without missing the gymn work. Then otherwise the gymn work. When otherwise, the

METHODISTS AT DETROIT

Rev. E. E. Satterlee, of Brainerd, Presides at Anniversary of Temperance Society

The nineteenth annual session of the northern conference of the Methodist Episcopal church opened in Detroit with Bishop Quayle of St. Paul presiding.

Delegates to the number of 200 are in attendance. Preceding the reception to Bishop Quayle the anniversary of the church temperance society occurred, at which Rev. E. E. Satterlee of Brainerd presided and Rev. Dr. H. G. McCain of Topeka, delivered the address. He said, among other things, that the problem of American government at this time was the problem of properly assimilating into our national life the 40 per cent of foreign born population.

The annual reports of the district superintendent showed the steady growth of the church in Northern Minnesota. In his report Rev. E. K. Copper, superintendent of the Duluth district, said:

"Five new churches have been dedicated in the year. The church at Gilbert valued at $4,000, T. B. Shorts, pastor, was dedicated on Sunday, April 27, with all indebtedness provided for. The new and beautiful little church at Crosby, costing about $2,500, was dedicated Sunday, July 13, and all indebtedness was provided for excepting the loan from the board of home missions and church extension. A neat little parsonage of four rooms was also built at the same time, furnishing a place for the preacher to live. Dr. M. P. Burns of the Minneapolis district aided in the dedication of both these buildings. The church at Onamia, C. E. Wittup, pastor, was dedicated on Sunday, Aug. 3, with all of its indebtedness provided for except the small loan from the board.

EXPLAINS HERALD'S ACCOUNT

Claimed that the Report Made of the Case of Lamb vs Wise Was Largely Inaccurate

To the Editor:

The article appearing in the Daily Dispatch last evening headed "Induced to break her contract. Aged woman says she listened to stories told her and breaks her contract," which was taken from the columns of the Duluth Evening Herald was largely a mis-report of the case.

The action was one in equity for specific performance of a contract, by E. A. Lamb against Ransford R. Wise. The question was whether or not Mr. Wise at the time he purchased the land in question from Mrs. Heberling had actual knowledge of such notice to put him on the inquiry as to the prior existence of an agreement of Mrs. Heberling's to convey the said land to Mr. Lamb.

In one part of the article it is stated that Mrs. Heberling testified that it was decided at the time of the transaction with Mr. Hill (for Mr. Lamb) "that she was to send the deeds for the two parcels of land to Mr. Hill as soon as they were sent to her by the probate court." That was not the testimony. The article further states: "Shortly after this agreement was made. Mrs. Heberling-Benson left for Brainerd to make her home. After arriving there, she says, Mr. Wise and his attorney, Mr. Gardner, came to her and made misrepresentations about the agreement (with Mr. Hill) and that Mr. Hill was a person of 'low character,' and that he would never stick to his original agreement. Believing these men, she said, she signed a deed over to Mr. Wise, selling her property for the latter's offer of $1500." That was not the testimony, admittedly.

The undisputed testimony shows that I was not Mr. Wise's attorney at the time of this transaction.

The undisputed testimony shows that I did not accompany Mr. Wise to see Mrs. Heberling-Benson and make misrepresentations about Mr. Hill, at this or any other time. The testimony shows and is not denied that Mrs. Heberling-Benson was in my office on some legal matters not connected with this affair and told me about her land; that Mr. Hill made her an offer for her land of $1800, several hundred dollars to be paid down but had not lived up to his agreement and I asked her if she still wanted to sell the land and she said she did. I told her that maybe Mr. Wise would buy it; that he was purchasing a good deal of land around the county and I told her I would see him. And I did see him and gave him the description of the land. He afterwards looked over the land and told me that he would give her $1500 for the land. I communicated this fact to her and she said she would take it. And the deal was afterwards consummated but I did not take part and was not present at the time of the transaction.

It was rather strange that the article regarding Mrs. Heberling's testimony and the plaintiff's case should appear in one issue of the Herald and yet in the following issue of the Herald not a word was said regarding the defendant's side of the case.

This was not a jury trial, but was submitted to the court.

BARROWS MINE SHIPS FIRST ORE

Large Crowd Witnesses First Shipment of Ore From the South Cuyuna Iron Range

12 CARS ADDED TO FREIGHT
Mining Men, Railway Officials, Fee-Holders, Mine Officials and Workers Present

Today, October 2, is a red letter day on the Cuyuna range, for it signifies the first shipment of ore made from the South Range of the Cuyuna Iron Range, 12 cars of ore averaging 60 per cent having been shipped this morning from the Barrows mine of the Virginia Ore Mining Co., a subsidiary of the M. A. Hanna Co. This first ore from the Barrows mine at Barrows is consigned to the Northern Pacific railway docks at Superior.

In the presence of a large crowd of mining men, fee-owners of the property, mine officials and workers, railway officials, citizens of Barrows, Brainerd, Duluth, Superior, Ely, St. Paul, Two Harbors and other points, and the 50 school children from the Barrows schools with their teachers Miss Mae Staples and Miss Jessie Dewald, the way freight steamed to Barrows and the mine and then commenced switching the loaded ore cars to the main line.

As the crowd stood near the 12,000 tons stockpile, W. W. Latta, the Brainerd Dispatch staff photographer, took several pictures of the hundreds present.

The ore cars were gayly decorated with bunting and with signs on both sides showing that the ore came from the Barrows mine.

Among those at the mine were R. R. Wise, of the Brainerd Mining Co., whose property was leased to the operators; George D. LaBar, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Farrar, the Misses Small, W. A. Barrows, James M. Elder, Henry I. Cohen, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Frederick, J. Rothaus, and many others from Brainerd.

From St. Paul were Division Superintendent Newman Kline, of the St. Paul division of the Northern Pacific railway and A. Tinning, assistant general freight agent.

From Duluth were John Wahl, of the Barrows townsite Co., William Nicolaysen, Theodor Dahlheim.

From Superior, Walter Hard of the Superior Telegram.

From Two Harbors were County Attorney J. G. Jelle and Charles E. Anderson.

From Eveleth was John Schwab. With the mine whistles emitting loud blasts, joined in by the toot from road engine No. 2335, the cars were attached to the way freight and amid the cheers of the assembled hundreds the train pulled out for Brainerd, from which point they will be sent out to the new ore docks of the Northern Pacific railway at Superior.

In charge of the train pulling the first ore from the South Range and the Barrows mine were Engineer James Reilly, C. Barron fireman, Ed. Hamblet conductor and Jerry Grace and Charles Remus brakemen. The way freight had 48 cars and when the 12 ore cars were added it made up a good, heavy train.

The ore cars were switched to the west end of the Brainerd yards and can be seen near the bridge. Many Brainerd people took advantage of the opportunity to see the ore from the Barrows mine.

To Supt. W. J. Nicholas belongs the credit for getting the mine in the present high state of efficiency. He took charge June 15 at a time when the Barrows mine had been flooded four months. In 15 days the mine was clear of water and he used nothing but the old equipment. Supt. Nicholas is a practical miner of great experience. For five years he was with the Pickands-Mather people and for three years he was mine inspector on the Mesaba and Vermillion ranges. He is 40 years old, but looks like 25. Of rugged health, he has taken care of himself, is never sick and is a man who is constantly on the job and knows every detail of the work entrusted to his care. He has certainly made a record in efficient management at the Barrows mine.

About him he has gathered a crew of high-class men including a force of good miners and H. Tallon, mining captain; Harry Sincox, shift boss; Charles Richards, master mechanic; H. Clark, chief clerk; F. W. McGee, assistant bookkeeper. The total working force at present is 125 men.

The shaft is down a depth of 160 feet and at this level are situated three pump stations. The pumps include several high pressure pumps of 600 gallon capacity, a 3,000 gallon triple expansion pump, a 1,000 gallon compound pump, a 3,500 gallon triple expansion pump, the latter newly installed. The flow of water now runs about 2,000 gallons a minute and the 3,500 gallon pump handles it easily. A new launder 3600 feet long is being installed and the old one along the N. P. railway right of way will be removed.

A sub-level at 120 feet has been drifted out a distance of 400 feet or more. About 150 tons are being hoisted daily. The stockpile has about 12,000 tons. From the shaft alone there can be shipped before the close of navigation about 10,000 tons. Some ore may be shipped from the stockpile.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Tomorrow night at 7:30 there will be a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. to take up the question of cross country runs as well as a walking club and to appoint committees to further each to the greatest possible extent. All interested should make it a point to be present.

From now on the mens regular gymn classes at the Y. M. C. A. will begin at 7:00 o'clock sharp, whenever there is a show at the opera house. This will enable those going to the show to do so without missing the gymn work. Then otherwise the gymn work. When otherwise, the

THE BRAINERD DAILY DISPATCH

FOUR SOULS EACH.

Curious Beliefs of the Savages of West Africa.

West African religion is particularly generous to the human beings, to each of whom it allots several souls, four being the usual number. Only one is immortal, however. The others, though troublesome enough during the owner's life, cease to be at the same time as the body. They are the shadow soul, the dream soul and the bush soul.

One soul seems more than many of us can manage, but the poor African has a bad time between the four of them. He never knows when some enemy may plunge a knife into his shadow, thus causing him to sicken and die, or when his bush soul, which takes the form of an animal, may rush into danger and get hurt, and, as for his dream soul, that is particularly troublesome, as it wanders from his body during sleep and runs the risk of being caught by witch traps. When this happens its place is often taken by a nasty stranger spirit called a "sisa," which seems to have no other object but to cause misfortune and sickness to the being who forms its temporary habitation.

Most of the tribes have the idea of an underworld after death, neither heaven nor hell, but much like the existing world, only dimmer. Among the Tschwi tribes this idea is well defined.
Their shadow world has a name—srahmandayi—and they even know the way to the entrance, which is across the Volta river. This place has its markets, its town and its interests, but everything is felt in a more indistinct way.

Meat For Jurymen.

At one time it was the common duty of both the plaintiff and defendant in an action to provide refreshments for the jury empaneled to try it, and from this arose the practice (which survived until 1870) of denying them "meat, drink or fire" while deliberating upon their verdict. Later on it became usual for the person in whose favor the verdict was given to offer the jury a dinner and sometimes a guinea or so for their trouble. This practice led to so much abuse that it was found necessary to pass a law prohibiting it.—
London Graphic.

Feminine Economy.

"I understand, Harry," remarked the acquaintance, "that your wife has started to practice economy."

"Yes," replied Harry, "she is practicing economy, all right, and if your wife is thinking of taking a turn in the same direction you had better get busy and head her off before it is too late."

"I don't understand you, Harry,"
said the acquaintance, with a perplexed expression. "I should regard economy as something to commend."

"Yes," was the smiling rejoinder of Harry, "but not when your wife is buying your shirts at three for a dollar so that she can get herself a twenty-dollar hat."—Chicago News.

Well Trained.

Hunston—I'd like to go shooting tomorrow if I could only get a dog that was well trained. Ethel—Oh, I'll let you take Dottie, then. She can stand on her head, and shake hands, and of things.—Puck.

Poor Sowing.

"There's a fellow who is hoping for a crop failure."

"That seems unusual. What has he sown?"

"Wild oats."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Begin This Fall To Beautify Your Home Grounds

Many do not realize HOW IMPORTANT it is to have the grounds surrounding their homes as beautiful as possible. Everyone admires a pretty landscape, and there is no more excuse to live in a home which does not show a beautiful EXTERIOR than to live in one with the INTERIOR only half finished.

Some imagine that to have beautiful grounds surrounding their homes is so expensive that it can only be had by the wealthy. This is incorrect; even the humblest cottage can have its grounds treated in an artistic manner, BUT the scheme must harmonize so that everything "fits"—you must get expert advice if you want a pleasing effect.

A small sum spent in the RIGHT planting under our direction will make you proud of your home, and will add MANY DOLLARS to its market value.

THE H & O SERVICE

We have made the designing of home grounds and parks a study for many years. We know just what plants and trees will harmonize with your house and with your surroundings. The "H. & O. SERVICE" will study your grounds and work out a scheme that will harmonize, and when completed, will give character to your surroundings.
Where the grounds are not too large we will furnish complete plans and sketches without cost, providing the material for the plantings are purchased from us at our usual very reasonable prices. Right now in the fall is a good time to take measurements, so the plans can be worked out during the winter for the early spring planting.
Send for our beautifully illustrated booklet "HOME LANDSCAPES" which will give you an idea of what you can do with YOUR home. We will gladly send this booklet free.
